Old Dog 101 - Tips & Tricks for Senior Dog Care Hope Morgan, Erik Jauch

Senior dogs need special care, and there is nothing more sacred than being there for your pet when they reach this stage of their life. We address topics ranging from diet and dehydration to disease and death. We provide useful tips and tricks for the typical dog owner in everyday language, offering sensible suggestions and practical advice that won't break your bank account. This isn't the type of book where we're going to tell you to get a CT scan every month, consult a celebrity dog psychic working on the Lifetime Channel, preemptively put your dog on a waiting list for a heart transplant or feed you dog organic liver from some semi-endangered back footed duck that can only be imported by rocket ship from Paris. Instead, we offer tried-and-true recommendations for helping to deal with a number of issues including arthritis, seizures, dementia, incontinence, old dog vestibular disease, weight management and giving medication. We have decades of experience running Little Old Dog Sanctuary, a home and hospice for senior and special needs dogs. This book is an honest account of what has, and has not, worked for our dogs.
