Safari Doctor: Life and Adventures of a Texas Wildlife Park Veterinarian Joe Cannon

Remember All Creatures Great and Small? Who could ever forget? Now, in Safari Doctor, it's the Americans who are having all the fun! This entertaining and informative book is for animal lovers and adventure seekers everywhere, including young people who would like to one day become veterinarians.

Share the challenges and joys of Dr. Cannon during his years with exotic animals. You will meet many memorable creatures, including Silky Harris the fox, Judy the movie-star chimp, Dottie the fawn, Werewolf the ugly lion, and many more. Delight in a trip to a ranch in Mexico where Joe and a buddy round up zebra, something no one had been able to do before. Allow your heart to soar as your appreciation for all of God's creatures greatly expands.

Sometimes, in all the activity of life, we need to simply stop and be emotionally touched by a book like this. "I was crying so hard I could barely see, and I had no idea where I was going or what I was going to do with Silky Harris. He just lay in the seat beside me and was looking up at me with chicken feathers still in his mouth, wondering why his picnic had been interrupted."

The stories told in this book are true-life adventures of a modern-day "Doc Tan." This is a great read for anyone who cares about these wonderful creatures. - Mickey Hunt.

A heartwarming, enlightening, and sometimes terrifying story of Dr. Joe Cannon's lifetime as an animal lover and veterinarian. If you are an animal lover too, you will love reading about his encounters with these creatures that have brought so much joy and meaning to his life., and can make better human beings out of us all. - Charles E.
