Tales of a Blood Earth (A BLOOD SKIES short story) Steven Montano

In the time after The Black, humans battle against the onslaught of the vampire armies of the Ebon Cities.

In a desolate patch of remote wasteland, a young woman named Rooke, part of a group of prisoners held by the corrupt prison wardens called The Revengers, struggles to stay alive. Ordered to unearth a terrible chamber of ancient power and hounded by once-frozen vampire savages, Rooke's journey into darkness will reveal forgotten secrets of the conflict that has brought The Black to our world.

But will Rooke survive long enough to tell anyone?

This newly compiled edition also features new cover art and a sneak preview of Book 3 in the BLOOD SKIES series, "SOULRAZOR", coming March of 2012!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Steven Montano started writing at the age of 18 and never really stopped. A graduate with distinction from the University of Colorado at Boulder, Steven took his Creative Writing degree and became an accountant, instead. He still hasn't figured out why.

Now, Steven writes the Blood Skies series. His wife runs a popular online yarn shop, and his kids just drive him crazy. They all live in a rain shelter in Washington State.

Harold Thompson:

As a pupil exactly feel bored to reading. If their teacher asked them to go to the library as well as to make summary for some book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's soul or real their interest. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading really. Any students feel that looking at is not important, boring along with can't see colorful photographs on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this period of time, many ways to get whatever you want. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country.
